ORIGAMI BOAT

Make a Paper Boat For grown-ups – 60 seconds of folding, 10 minutes of distraction (you're welcome)

You'll need a square or rectangular piece of paper. The back of this page works perfectly.

- Fold the paper in half from top to bottom, then open it up again so you have a crease line.
- Fold it in half again the other way (side to side).
- Fold the two top corners down to meet the middle crease – you'll have a triangle with a rectangle below it.
- Fold the top layer of the rectangle up over the bottom of the triangle.
- Flip the paper over and fold the other rectangle layer up the same way. You should now have a triangle shape.
- Open the bottom of the triangle and push the sides inward so it flattens into a diamond.
- Fold the bottom point of the diamond up to meet the top point. Flip and repeat on the other side.
- Open the bottom one more time and gently pull the two top corners outward – your boat will appear.

- Hand it over with great ceremony. Sail it across the table. Save it for the bath for later!
